In the movie “Groundhog Day,” the characters repeat the same thing over and again, so with this being Groundhog Day Week, this is the perfect time to bring family and friends on that return trip to the iconic Mound House on Fort Myers Beach! During 2021’s final three months, the Lee County Visitor & Convention Bureau fielded over 61,000 visitor attraction inquiries, with the historic Mound House receiving the third-highest amount in all of Southwest Florida!

New this week is next lecture of the Mound House’s 2022 Series, as Austin Bell presents “The Nine Lives of Florida’s Famous Key Marco Cat” on Tuesday, February 8, from 6 to 7 p.m. Bell explores the nine periods of the six-inch-high wooden carving, beginning with its sculpting from shell and shark-tooth tools, and whether it represented a human / panther god to the Calusa. Preserved in muck for centuries on Marco Island and unearthed in pristine condition, the Cat journeyed over 12,000 miles while being viewed by millions of people. Due to COVID-19, this will be a virtual lecture, so register in advance at 239-765-0865; $5-per-person & Mound House members free.

The Mound House is at 451 Connecticut Street with overflow parking at 216 Connecticut.
